& Advisors before CROP WALK 2008

High School mission trip to inner-city Denver, CO where the youth worked hard painting houses, doing daycare and working in local food banks and serving meals in homeless shelters. “This was an eye-opening trip,” said HS advisor John McCorkle.

Hopes & Highlights

This year the middle and high school youth at First Presbyterian Church have an ambitious schedule laid out before them. In addition to regular meetings of fun, Christian fellowship, service projects and participation in church events, the high schoolers are planning a trip to study Presbyterian Heritage in Scotland. The middle schoolers are planning a trip to learn more about urban ministry in New York City. Each group hopes to return with a deeper sense of identity—who are we called to be and how our identity is shaped by our Presbyterian heritage. Each of these trips cannot happen without the support and prayers of the congregation and families of the youth.

Be prayerful about how you will participate this year.
